

Cookies Files

Our website, like most websites, uses so-called cookies. Cookies are small text files that are stored in the computer's memory and assigned to the browser used by the user. Cookies usually contain the name of the website from which they come, their storage time on the end device and a unique number.

Cookies do not change the settings of the device and the software used, and cannot run any programs or transmit viruses on the user's device.

If the user uses the website only for information purposes, i.e., if the user does not provide personal data in any other way, only the data that the web browser transfers to our server is collected.

Detailed information on this subject is described in the following sections of our Cookies Policy.

While browsing the Website, necessary data is collected for technical reasons to be able to view the website and guarantee its stability and security. This information is the following:

- IP address
- Date and time of the query
- Time zone difference from Greenwich Mean Time (GMT)
- Content of the request (specific page)
- Access status/http response code
- The amount of data transferred
- The website from which the request was originated
- Browser
- Operating system and its interface
- Language and version of the browser software.

In addition to the data mentioned above, cookies are stored on the User's computer when he uses the Website.

Different types of cookies can be distinguished. The website uses its own cookies to ensure its proper functioning and third-party cookies, as well as session cookies (in which, after finishing the browsing session or turning off the computer, the stored information is deleted from the device's memory), as well as persistent cookies (which are stored in the memory of the user's end device and remain there until they are deleted or when they expire).

The above data is not associated with specific people using the website and is not used to identify users. We use cookies for the following purposes:

- Correctly display the website and adapt it to your preferences,
- Create statistics and improve the content of the website,
- Personalize marketing information.

For the above purposes, we also use tools provided by third parties (web browser). The cookies we use expire after 24 months at the latest.

The basis for the use of cookies is the express consent of the users. In accordance with the applicable regulations, this consent can also be expressed through the web browser's configuration.

To find out how to manage cookies, including how to disable them in your browser, please consult the corresponding instructions in the "Help" tab of your web browser.

As part of the web browser settings, it is also possible to disable cookies and data from third-party websites. Disabling or limiting the use of cookies may cause difficulties in the use of the website, as well as many other websites that use cookies.

Detailed information about the possibilities and ways of handling cookies is available in the settings of the software (web browser).

More information about cookies is available in the "Help" section of your web browser's menu.
